“Tonight we recognize and celebrate the members of the senior class. They are internally driven and consistently demonstrate a genuine concern for others...so much so that this year’s seniors collectively gave over 7,000 hours of their time to serving their community.”

Eric Brodaker
Principal

“Chris Burns is the school that the school is comprised of, which separates it from every other academic institution. The community members, teachers, students, and administration reading Viking Pride...are all a part of the rich tradition that collectively gave over 7,000 hours of their time to serving their community.”
